TERRY L. BOWMAN
Grand Master

Brethren,

On May 22, 2012, your Grand Lodge Officers were honored and humbled to lay a Masonic Wreath at the Memorial for Fallen Law Enforcement Officers. There are approximately 13 Brethren on the Memorial that have given the ultimate sacrifice for their Community and our Commonwealth. The Memorial is located at Eastern Kentucky University. This great event was arranged by our Brother, Dr. John Bizzack, Commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Criminal Justice

Grand Master's Message

Training. We all owe Brother Bizzack our gratitude for his hard work and dedication.

As I travel our great Commonwealth, it is a pleasure to meet so many Brethren and visit with them at their Lodges. We are so blessed to live in a Country and State where, by the Grace of God, our men and women in uniform have made this possible. As Masons, we should strive every day to live up to those blessings by what we say and how we act in public. We are Masons 24/7, 365 days a year. Love your Brother Mason as you love yourself and treat one another with that love and respect that at all times should characterize Freemasons. Freemasonry is not a club, it is a way of life. By adhering to the teachings and lessons of Masonry, we will all be better men.

Continue to pray for one another and those less fortunate. Remember, we are as one!

Notes

FROM YOUR
GRAND SECRETARY
JOSEPH R. CONWAY,
P.G.M., Grand Secretary

To a young teenager, life is an idyllic adventure, full of mystery, hope, and great expectations for the future. As we get older and deal with our place in the world, gaining life's experience as we go, we kind of fall into a comfortable daily routine with our lives, going along from day to day. A routine which over time becomes automatic and which we often take for granted; that is until something comes along to disturb our complacency and place us in unexpected or unfamiliar territory. This particular time of the year offers the potential for drastic weather changes (violent thunderstorms, tornadoes, strong winds, etc.) which may temporarily disrupt utility services, particularly electrical service, especially vulnerable to heavy winds. We get so accustomed to just flipping the electrical switch and everything is fine. The TV is on, the air-conditioner is performing the function for which it was designed, and the darkness is flooded with light. But when you are forced to sit in the dark, lit only by candle power for hours, and sometimes days, and have to drastically change your routine for a few days, you gain a deeper appreciation for those things we normally take for granted.

I think we may have allowed the same complacency to creep into our attitudes and commitments towards our lodges and Freemasonry. The close parallel between the two topics appeared to be quite obvious. After all, many of the things we are still doing in the Fraternity are the same things we have been doing for years and appear to have served Freemasonry so well. Consequently, we fall into a comfortable routine with where we are and what we are doing, and unconsciously begin to look inward, dwelling on past accomplishments; an understandable human trait!

We Masons sometimes need a good unexpected jolt to shake us out of our lethargic state and force us to deal with conditions as they really are, not necessarily what we desire them to be. Now I would be the last one to suggest that we make any changes in our philosophy, tenets and/or landmarks of the Fraternity, for those are what make us true Masons. However, with modern technology in the communication field, interstate roads, computers and e-mail, etc. we may need a jolt of some sort to reenergize our lodges, and especially our lodge members, to make our presence in our local communities more obvious and relative. Our declining numbers may well be the unrecognized jolt we need to bring us out of our comfort zone and force us to assess just how relative we are in our communities. If we are not growing, that seems to be a clear indication that we may have lost touch with our local communities.

What to do about it? There is no magic all-encompassing solution that will work for each and every lodge in Kentucky. Each lodge will have to find a solution tailor-made for the community in which it is located. The first step is to look beyond what we are presently doing and find new ways to let the non-Masons in our communities know that Freemasons are relative, that they are members of and interested in the welfare of their community, and that we are here to stay.

In dealing with a power outage problem the matter may simply be solved by a trip to Home Depot to purchase a generator. I think this is what we may need at this time to restore our Gentle Fraternity to its formal standing in society in general, and our communities in particular—a generator—remembering that each one of us is a generator of sorts, and what our Fraternity is now, and what it is to become, depends proportionally on just how much enthusiasm, dedication, and commitment we display in our personal lives for the principles and tenets of Freemasonry in our communities and to the non-Masonic public.

So, let's keep the generator running 24/7 and watch Freemasonry blossom anew!

INTEGRITY

I don't know if any of the individuals involved in the following article I lifted from Reader's Digest were Masons or not – but I would like to think so. Nevertheless, it demonstrates a powerful lesson in integrity.

Pulling into my service station 45 minutes late one morning, I shouted to the customers, "I'll turn the pumps on right away!" What I didn't know was that the night crew had left them on all night. By the time I got to the office, most of the cars had filled up and driven off. Only one customer stayed to pay. My heart sank. Then the customer pulled a wad of cash from his pocket and handed it to me. "We kept passing the money to the last guy," he said. "We figured you'd show up sooner or later."

MASONIC HOMES of KENTUCKY

Providing quality housing, health care and services that make a difference in people's lives

Carl Eddings is Louisville's 2011 Employee of the Year

Masonic Home of Louisville's Carolyn Rhodes (left) and Kim Sublett celebrated 30 years and 25 years, respectively, with the Homes.

Masonic Homes honored 57 Louisville campus employees at an employee appreciation celebration in May.

Environmental Specialist Carl Eddings was named Masonic Home of Louisville's 2011 Employee of the Year. "Employees like Carl make Masonic Homes the best place to work, and also one of the best places for our residents to live," said CEO Gary Marsh. Eddings has worked for Masonic Home for more than 14 years.

Groundskeeper Douglas Morton was named Masonic Homes of Kentucky's corporate group 2011 Employee of the Year. "Doug has worked through the night to make sure a recent mechanical failure caused minimal disturbance," Marsh said. "Our residents and our staff know they can count on Doug."

Masonic Homes also recognized 19 employees for longevity of service and honored 21 for perfect attendance during 2011.

Casey Adams

Director named for Miralea

Casey Adams has been selected executive director for the Miralea community scheduled to open on the Louisville campus in October 2012.

"Miralea is a significant development in Masonic Homes' family of services as a cornerstone in creating a true continuing care retirement community on our Louisville campus," said Masonic Homes President and CEO Gary Marsh. "Casey's ability to cultivate relationships will be a great asset as we set to open the doors and move in residents to their new homes."

Adams was with Kentucky Chamber of Commerce in Frankfort for seven years as customer service manager. While there, he developed and cultivated business relationships with thousands of Chamber clients from across Kentucky including many from Fortune 500 companies. Adams is recognized for providing outstanding service and business leadership. He attended the University of Kentucky. He joined Masonic Homes of Kentucky on May 1.

Miralea is a premier independent living community, offering 90 apartment residences and 12 patio homes. Along with luxury, custom-designed residences with upscale amenities, Miralea residents also receive a life care benefit that ensures their future care on the Louisville campus as their individual needs warrant.

Shelbyville Home garners two honors

National and state awards recognize performance excellence

Masonic Home of Shelbyville has earned the 2012 bronze level National Quality Award from the American Health Care Association/National Center for Assisted Living. The program honors long-term care communities across the nation that have a demonstrated commitment to quality improvement.

Implemented in 1996, the National Quality Award program assists providers of long-term and post-acute care services in achieving their performance excellence goals. It is a progressive, three-step program beginning at the bronze level.

Masonic Home Administrator and Executive Director Debra Finneran

said the award is another milestone for the Home's staff. "To earn this national recognition is validation that we are achieving our goals in customer satisfaction and community engagement," Finneran said.

Masonic Home of Shelbyville is among 402 facilities nationwide—and one of eight in Kentucky—to receive the 2012 Bronze award. The award will be presented to Masonic Home during AHCA/NCAL's convention in Tampa later this year.

Also, Kentucky Assisted Living Facilities Association presented its 2012 Community Award to The Pillars at Masonic Home of Shelbyville for its Mission Stitches program.

The Declaration of INDEPENDANCE

The Declaration of Independence was signed by 56 men representing the 13 colonies. The moment marked the beginning of all-out war against the British. The American Revolutionary War is said to have started in 1775, however. The Declaration was signed more than two years after Boston officials refused to return three shiploads of taxed tea to Britain, fueling colonists to dump the tea into the harbor in what became the infamous Boston Tea Party.

The Declaration of Independence itself has become one of the most admired and copied political documents of all time. It was written by Thomas Jefferson and revised by John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, and Jefferson.

The Declaration of Independence is a justification of the American Revolution, citing grievances against King George III. It is also a landmark philosophical statement, drawing on the writings of philosophers John Locke and Jean Jacques Rousseau. It affirms that since all people are creatures of God, or nature, they have certain natural rights, or liberties, that cannot be violated.

The Declaration and the American Revolution have since inspired freedom-seekers the around the world.

Several countries used the Declaration of Independence as a beacon in their own struggles for freedom. Among them, France. Then later, Greece, Poland, Russia and many countries in South America.

The Influence of Good Fathers

by Howard Coop

It was, indeed, a pleasant visit at the end of a long and busy day. The father, the mother, and their little son welcomed us graciously into their home. As we visited, the little boy, active and playful, was expressive and interacted with us in a pleasant way that made the visit most enjoyable.

At once, some things were obvious; it was noticeable in several significant ways that the life of the father was having a decidedly shaping influence upon the life of that little boy. Beyond his physical appearance that was the result of gene transmission, the influence of his father was obvious in the son's attitude, imitative habits of speech, and behavior. In so many ways, the little fellow talked and acted like his father. To put it in vernacular terms, some would say that the little boy was "the spittin' image" of his father.

Fathers are many things to their children. They are examples, mentors, teachers, disciplinarians, guidance counselors, and role models for them. Therefore, as fathers live with their children from day to day in the home and interact with them on a regular basis, they are one of the more important life shaping forces in the lives of their children.

Frequently, those who work in the field of family services, report that one of the major problems in our society comes from the fact that too many children grow up in homes with one parent without the shaping influence of fathers. Without the shaping influence of good fathers, children miss something tremendously important and life is not what it should be; therefore they go in the wrong direction.

Father's Day, observed annually on the third Sunday in June since 1910 when the first observance was held in Spokane,

Washington, is a time to pay tribute to good fathers and recognize the important role they have in the development of their sons and daughters and, through that role, the contribution they make to a stable society.

DISTRICT 15 VISITS WEST LIBERTY

Past Grand Master Donald Yankee presents Brother Kenneth Williams with the proceeds of the Freeman Lake Bluegrass Festival.

Brother Robert Wolford, Master of Zoneton Lodge #964 presents Brother Kenneth Williams, Master of Highland Lodge #311 with the proceeds of the fundraising efforts

The entire city of West Liberty suffered extensive destruction from tornados and storms earlier in 2012, including the destruction of Highland Lodge #311. The Lodges from District 15, along with Okolona #853, Fern Creek #955, and Suburban #740 were represented in West Liberty, Kentucky on May 12, 2012. The purpose of this visit was to present the Brothers of Highland Lodge with the proceeds of a district-wide fundraising effort, coordinated by Worshipful Brother Robert Wolford, Master of Zoneton Lodge #964.

In an emotional meeting, Brother Wolford presented Brother Kenneth Williams, Master of Highland Lodge, with $8,506 from the Lodges in District 15. Afterwards, Most Worshipful Past Grand Master Donald Yankee presented Brother Williams with a gift from Morrison and Upton Lodges from the proceeds of the Bluegrass Festival at Freeman Lake. Highland Lodge has made significant progress in rebuilding their Lodge, and Brother Williams said that this money may be enough to "finish us out".

Presenting their gift was not the only purpose of the District 15 visit. The Brothers present also conferred the Sublime Degree of Master Mason on behalf of Highland Lodge, which still lacked some of the necessary ritual equipment, and whose ritualists had been quite busy with repairing their building and their community.

District 15 was neither the first, nor the last, group of Brothers to open their hearts and coffers to assist our Brothers in West Liberty. The outpouring of support shown by Lodges around the Commonwealth - and even across the nation - should make any man proud to be part of our ancient and honorable fraternity.

THIS IS MASONRY IN ACTION.
