Robert M. Sirkle Lodge 954 Constitution Quiz Showdown

On February 21, 2016, a large group of Brothers gathered at Robert M. Sirkle Lodge No. 954 for a friendly competition of Constitution Quiz. The group was assisted by Brothers Darren Wilson and Bobby Griggs who are available to help Lodges that would like to host this fun event and offer it to their members. The questions have been developed to help Lodges review their understanding of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky Constitution.

Grand Master's Message

CLOYD J. BUMGARDNER
Grand Master 2015-2016

Kentucky Masons Too Big for Small Dreams

Brothers, I trust that you are doing well as we leave Winter and head into Spring. While I am writing this article, I have received word that over 200 of Kentucky Masons have taken, and passed, the Grand Lodge of Kentucky Masonic Scholars Quiz and will be receiving the Grand Lodge of Kentucky Masonic Scholars pins. I thank you for your efforts to learn more about this great Masonic Constitution we operate under and to be willing to take a quiz, which quite frankly, is very difficult. I applaud you for your efforts and look forward to placing the pin on you and recognizing you in front of your peers.

Many already know the storied history of the Masonic Homes of Kentucky, but for those who may not, I want to outline the wonderful impact the Masonic Homes have had on Kentuckians for generations. The inception for the Masonic Homes was immediately after the American Civil War when many families were left without husbands and fathers due to the fighting. Food and clothing were very scarce and education was non-existent for many. The Masons of Kentucky dreamed a very big dream of how to help the situation and raised money to open the Masonic Widow and Orphans Home and Infirmary in Louisville.

In this facility the orphans received instruction in the trades including how to become printers, manufacture durable items such as shoes and learn the skills that everyone needed at the time such as gardening, canning and cooking. The mission of the Home continued unabated for many years and to serve the constant need, another facility, The Old Mason's Home, was opened in Shelbyville to serve Masons who were destitute.

With a new century came new challenges. In the early years of the 20th Century many children were orphaned when a deadly influenza pandemic swept the country and by deaths in World War I which claimed the lives of many young soldiers. The need was so great for housing and instruction that the homes were overwhelmed with orphans. By 1925 the Masons of Kentucky were once again ready to act, and 127 acres of land were purchased upon which they would both build a bigger Home and operate a farm, allowing the operation to be self-sufficient. We now know this campus as the Masonic Homes of Kentucky. It was laid out by the noted landscape architects, the Olmstead Brothers and the Masonic Homes Campus became a fixture in Louisville and currently has its own zip code. The years between 1930 and 1954 saw the largest population of children that ever lived at the Home. Over 600 children received living quarters and instruction due to the generosity of Kentucky Freemasons. The last orphan left the home in the early 1990's and the Masonic Widows and Orphans Home merged with the Old Mason's Home to become the Masonic Homes of Kentucky we know today.

When looking at Masonic Homes history from the year 2000 on, the Masonic Homes have seen many improvements to the facilities including renovating the old dining hall and renaming it the Olmstead (now a major venue where important events are held), the establishment of the Spring Hill Retirement Community in Taylor Mill, the institution of the Pillars Assisted Living Community in Shelbyville, the building of the Sam Swope Care Center which offers care, rehabilitation and dialysis services, the building of the Sproutlings Pediatric Day Care & Preschool Center which serves medically fragile children, and the building of the Miralea Active Lifestyle Community which offers 90 Apartment residences. The Masonic Homes have been brought up to date with the latest standards in medical practices and consistently win many awards at the state and national levels.

Over the years, individuals, Lodges, the St. John's Day League, the Grand Lodge of Kentucky and many others have contributed to make the Masonic Homes a reality, and have helped carry this legacy into the future. The Masonic Home legacy is constantly being renewed by the dedicated men and women who work there to provide care to those who are in need, as well as by Masons who donate generously to the cause. The Masonic Homes of Kentucky have continued a tradition of excellence for 147 years! For more information, please see the Masonic Homes website which contains the source material for this article.

Today, you and I live in a much different world than our forefathers who started the Masonic Homes. However, we as Masons are leaders in our communities and have too big an outlook to dream small dreams. I ask you to support the Masonic Homes of Kentucky with your time, talent and money as we pass it on to the next generation along with Freemasonry in general. Freemasonry is too big for small dreams.

"...the wonderful impact the Masonic Homes have had on Kentuckians for generations."

May God Bless you and continue to be Proud Kentucky Freemasons

MASONIC HOMES of KENTUCKY

Passionate People. INSPIRING LIVES.

Will the (Here in) Spirit move you? By Bruce Lott

Have you ever told someone who was experiencing personal difficulty that you couldn't be with them, but would be with them in spirit? Most of us have. Many residents at Masonic Homes of Kentucky have little or no family, or family that is far away. As Masons, part of our obligation is to make sure they know we care about them even though we may never meet them. This year, Most Worshipful Grand Master Cloyd Bumgardner has created the Here in Spirit program with a goal of $25,000 to provide the best quality of life for our residents' spiritual lives we can. Funds raised will purchase large print Bibles, a television, DVD player and stand to use during resident funeral services, and a long-overdue protective covering for the beautiful, 100-year-old stained glass windows in the Masonic Home of Shelbyville Chapel.

Gifts received so far total just under $9,600, thanks to the hard work by Homes Ambassadors, District Deputies and others who have purchased the beautiful lapel pins or made direct gifts. The total includes a generous $5,000 grant from the Mary Gaylord McClean Foundation in Simpsonville.

To support the Grand Master and his program, please see your district's Ambassador or District Deputy, mail your gift to Masonic Homes, 3761 Johnson Hall Drive, Masonic Home, KY 40041, or donate online at masonichomesky.com/giving. Be sure to indicate the Here in Spirit program. Let's not disappoint our Homes' residents who look to us.

Paducah Lodge 127 – New Brothers

Paducah Lodge 127 had the honor and privilege of raising three new Brothers on March 18, 2016. They had several in attendance along with a visit from Most Worshipful Master Cloyd Bumgardner, Grand Lodge Senior Warden Tim Sanders, and Grand Lodge Junior Warden Gary Rose. Paducah Lodge 127 would like to thank you for support and help from surrounding Lodges for the Degree work. The newly raised Brothers are: Perry Satterfield, Paducah #127; and Jamie Flowers, Paducah #127; and Brandon Wilson, Bardwell #499. Congratulations Brothers on your first step of your journey into Masonry.

Highland Lodge 311 – Raises One

Highland Lodge No. 311 raised Brother Daniel Haines to the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason during a recent communication at the Lodge. It was a great night full of fellowship, fun and Masonry. The Influence of Good Mothers

by Howard Coop

“The Merry month of May” is an apt description of the pleasant month. Those words go back to a poem by that name that was written by Thomas Dekker and included in The Shoemaker’s Holiday, a play that was first performed in 1599. So, for 416 years that familiar phrase has been used to describe the month of spring.

But May has another, and more important, designation. For 108 years, since the first observance in Andrews Methodist Episcopal Church in Graton, West Virginia, in 1908, the merry month has been associated with Mother’s Day, and May has become a significant reminder of the powerful influence good mothers have upon their sons and daughters.

That powerful influence is unquestioned. Three presidents – George Washington, Andrew Jackson, and Abraham Lincoln – have affirmed that influence. Lincoln’s statement, probably, is more familiar. He said, “All that I am, or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother.” Then, Washington said, “My mother was the most beautiful woman I ever saw. I attribute all my success in life to the moral, intellectual and physical education I received from her.” And Andrew Jackson said, “There never was a woman like her. She was gentle as a dove and brave as a lioness...The memory of my mother and her teachings were, after all, the only capital I had to start life with, and on that capital I made my way.”

Not only during the merry month of May but also during every day, many men, including most Masons, can make similar assertions. In their lives, they, too, have experienced, and witness to, the powerful influence of a good mother.

The molding influence of good mothers is beyond question. All of us owe an unpayable debt to our mothers.

*I thank Thee, Lord,
for Sleep and Rest*

*I thank Thee, Lord,
for sleep and rest,
For all the things
that I love best,
Now guide me
through another day
And bless my work
and bless my play.
Lord, make me strong
for noble ends,
Protect and bless
my loving friends;
Of all mankind good
Christians make.
All this I ask for Jesus' sake.*

A MUST READ FOR EVERY LODGE OFFICER

Review by Terry Tilton, PGM

MACOY'S MODERN WORSHIPFUL MASTER'S ASSISTANT

Michael A. Halleran, editor
MACOY PUBLISHING & MASONIC SUPPLY CO., INC.
(2016), 225 PAGES / HARDCOVER, US$30

Over thirty years ago I commented to my lodge brothers that an updating of Macoy's The Worshipful Master's Assistant was badly needed as the prosaic language was a hard slog and the "ideal" lodge of the booklet simply did not exist.

Finally, thanks to the skillful editing of Michael Halleran we have a readily accessible and truly informative modern book for lodge Master's and officers. Covering eleven chapters the book includes sections on: THE BASICS--Master of the Lodge, Duties of the Master, The Subordinate Officers, Masonic Law Disciplinary Matters; CEREMONIES -- Installation of Lodge Officers, Service Awards, Lodge of Sorrow, Funeral Ceremonies, and SUPPLEMENTAL MATERIAL-- Lodge Bylaws, and Committees. In short, it has information for every Master on how to understand the duties and responsibilities of running a well-governed lodge and how the responsibilities of his lodge officers help him make that happen.

This edition is a complete revision and I am particularly impressed with the survey of information and number of updated sources of current lodge and Grand Lodge practices across the United States. As Halleran points out, this book can only give the basic duties associated with lodge officers and running a well-governed lodge. Of necessity, ritualistic obligations and prerequisites of Grand Lodges will not only vary but must govern and be fundamental to each lodge's organization and practice.

Emphasizing the characteristics and responsibilities of leadership for the Worshipful Master, Halleran notes that Robert Macoy proclaimed in his first edition that "to become Master of a Lodge, 'worthy and well qualified' should be the legitimate object of ambition to every brother interested in the prosperity of the society but nothing corrodes the new Mason's enthusiasm for Freemasonry more swiftly than "the incapacity of his Worshipful Master." As Halleran points out, Macoy had clearly observed milksop Masters, overbearing secretaries, tyrannical treasurers, and ill-governed lodges that plainly resulted from the automatic advancement of the progressive line. Believing that education might solve the problem, Macoy wrote the Worshipful Master's Assistant.

Among the many updates in this book is a subsection titled MODERN COMMUNICATION. Halleran not only notes the many new forms of electronic communication in our society today - email, Facebook, tweets, Snapchat, Twitter, Instagram, etc. but encourages the lodge officers to recognize the importance of these new forms of communication and to use them to best advantage of the lodge. To this end, he offers many examples of how good communication is so necessary for good lodge organization and membership participation. The subject of lodge branding and its importance also comes up under this section.

As Halleran so skillfully points out, "change is not un-Masonic, although that may be news to many Freemasons." The change emphasized here has to do with the time and effort to plan. To this end, continuity becomes the operative word as the Lodge officers have a planned and coordinated program of good Masonic education, Lodge ritual and fellowship activities that are supported by the progressive officer line and the lodge. This book is a must-read for every member of the Lodge officer corp. Its 225 pages touch on every aspect of running a good lodge program with particular emphasis on the responsibilities of the lodge Master and his officers. I cannot recommend it more highly.

About the Reviewer: Terry L. Tilton is a past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Minnesota (2002), a founding member of The Masonic Society, a Fellow of the Philalethes Society and a member of the Masonic Information Center.
