Grand Master's Message

Are you a Masonic thermometer or a Masonic thermostat?

CLOYD J. BUMGARDNER
Grand Master 2015-2016

Brothers, just before I began writing this month's Masonic Home Journal article I turned up the heat in my house. When I looked at the thermometer it read 68 degrees. I wanted it a little warmer so I tripped the thermostat and the heat pump kicked on. When the thermostat was activated a signal went throughout the heat pump system causing a chain of events such as motors turning on, heat being taken from outside air and moved to the inside unit, and a motorized fan circulating the heat into the house. The entire process was dependent upon the thermostat initiating the action. The thermometer was important too, because it told me that the temperature wasn't as warm as I wanted but it offered no help to change the situation. It simply described the environment at the time. The thermostat on the other hand, was a more active participant in the process of warming the room. Now, when we apply cause and effect thinking to this scenario we can easily see that the cause was the thermostat bringing about action and the effect was the desired warm room. Without the action of the thermostat the room would have remained cold. As I travel, I see many wonderful things going on across the state by energetic and focused Brothers who are doing their very best to be thermostats. These thermostats are Brothers who are placing bicycles in elementary schools, putting up flagpoles in front of their Lodges, holding appreciation dinners for our military personnel, taking the Constitution Quiz, sending cards and fruit baskets to Masonic Widows, and etc., etc., etc. Thermometers are still very important, but thermostats make things happen and create excitement. Since we are now in the dead of winter and heating our homes is on all of our minds, I would like for each of you to think about this every time you adjust the thermostat in your home. Are you a thermometer or are you a thermostat.

My Brothers, one of the grandest parts of serving you as Grand Master this year is to get to meet new Brothers across the Commonwealth, to learn about the history of our Lodges, and to see how Masons help Brother Masons in need. I would like to share a couple of stories I have learned while traveling across the Commonwealth this past month. The first story is from the Caves Region of Kentucky. Your Grand Lodge of Kentucky Officers recently traveled to Green River Lodge No. 88 and while there learned of the vast history of Green River Lodge. The Lodge was chartered well before the American Civil War and is in an area which was frequented by both Union and Confederate troops during this conflict. There were many instances of churches, courthouses and Lodge halls being destroyed or commandeered for other uses during the war and the members of Green River No. 88 were afraid the same fate would befall their Lodge. To protect the integrity of their Masonry they wrapped the original Masonic Officers Jewels in the original Masonic Lodge Charter and hid them in a nearby Logsdon Valley cave. They did this to prevent them from being stolen during the war. The Jewels and Charter stayed hidden in this cave until it was safe to retrieve them and hold Lodge after the war had ended. Green River Lodge still has these items and they can be seen at the Lodge hall. In fact, these items

Freemasons will be recognized in the House and Senate Chambers

are used at the annual Masonic Outdoor Meeting held at a nearby Civil War Fort atop Lookout Hill. Many fascinating tales and legends of the war period are told and traded as part of this outdoor meeting. As a side note, one of those (unsubstantiated) tales was that the hidden Jewels and Charter were found in the cave by a young child who played with them while the troops pillaged outside. The legend continues that as an adult, this child would become Grand Master of Kentucky. Although it can't be verified, legend has it that the child's name was Jack Hodges! (Folks, these items truly do exist at Green River Lodge. You should go and see them.)

The second story deals with Brothers helping another Brother in need. A 93 year old Mason who belonged to a Delaware Lodge was under Hospice Care in Somerset, Kentucky. The Brother's family didn't know much about the Masons except that he had been one and through several channels the members at Somerset No. 111 Lodge found out about him. The Brother Mason hadn't opened his eyes in at least two weeks when five Brothers of Somerset Lodge presented him with a Grand Masters Pin and prayed with him. The gentleman was able to open his eyes and smiled. Somerset Lodge contacted the Brother's home Lodge in Delaware who knew nothing of his whereabouts. As a result of the efforts of Somerset Lodge members he will receive the Masonic Rites in Delaware.

To conclude this article, I hope you will be able to attend the "All Masons Day" in Frankfort on February 2, 2016. As in previous years, Kentucky Freemasons will be recognized in the House and Senate Chambers. Additionally, the Grand Lodge of Kentucky was approved to hold a tiled meeting in the Senate Chambers for the first time in history of the Commonwealth. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. (EST) and appropriate dress for this meeting is a suit, or jacket and tie. Please plan to arrive early. The first section of the Master Mason Degree will be conferred by your Grand Lodge Officers, the Second Section by the District #15 Degree Team, and the Third Section by the District #17 Degree Team. We hope to see you at this historic meeting.

*Until next month,
I ask that you continue to be proud Kentucky Freemasons!!!*

REMEMBER TO PAY
YOUR 2016
LODGE DUES

Notes

FROM YOUR GRAND SECRETARY
DONALD H. YANKEY PGM

During my time here in the Office of Grand Secretary I have received many phone calls and letters. It may seem obvious that this would occur. Yet most of the calls I receive and letters complain they did not receive Notice of Dues they owe, or not receiving any communication from the Lodge.

To answer the first question of Dues: Brethren, Dues have been due January 1st since I have been a Mason, unless you have been in less than a month you should know this. The Secretary of your Lodge has great responsibility to perform his duties, yet you have a responsibility to uphold your duties. Masonry is something you asked to be a member. The Secretary should not have to ask you each year if you wish to remain a member.

To answer the second question when going to the database of the Lodge of the Brother asking why he doesn't receive any communication or Dues Notice from his Lodge, his Address has changed, yet he did not inform his Secretary. If your Secretary does not have your current contact information you will not be receiving anything from the Lodge.

I would ask the Brothers of this Great Fraternity to look to yourself and ask have I performed my duties as a Mason.

*Amidst the struggles of man
His loves, his hates, his fears,
There are silent messengers
Which bring hope through misty tears.
Man plays his given part on earth
From script stamped with Heaven's Seal,
Tis the story of man's journey here,
But the end—it does not reveal
Beyond or own allotted words
Are messengers that ever tell,
The end is but the beginning,
And all, yes all, is well.*

As a tribute of love and respect for the memory of our departed Brother Barber Loyd Shelton, PGM, it is hereby ordered that this memorial be read in each Lodge in this Jurisdiction at the next Stated Communication following its reception, and that it be made a part of the records of the Lodge.

The Perfect Ashlar

by Howard Coop

His picture hangs in many Lodges, and Brother George Washington, whose birthday we celebrate each February, has been called the "perfect ashlar" of Freemasonry by whom all Master Masons may gauge their labors and square the activities.

And Brother Washington has been called more than that. Someone called him a "living stone" who "became the cornerstone of American civilization" and what "remains the milestone other civilizations follow into liberty and equality."

We remember Brother Washington for his distinguished career. He was the Commander-in-Chief of the Continental Army during the American Revolution and one of the Founding Fathers of the United States. In 1789, he became the first President of the new nation and served it admirably for eight years. Henry Lee, an American Revolutionary War officer known as Light-Horse Harry, eulogized Brother Washington as "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

In addition to his military and political career through which he contributed much to this nation, Brother Washington had a distinguished Masonic career. On November 4, 1752, three months and twenty-one days before his twenty-first birthday, he received the Entered Apprentice degree in Fredericksburg Lodge No. 3 in Fredericksburg, Virginia. On March 3, 1753, he passed to the Degree of Fellow Craft, and on August 4, 1753, he was raised to the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason. On April 28, 1788, a new Lodge, Alexandria No. 22, was chartered, and Brother Washington was named Charter Worshipful Master. On December 20, 1788, he was unanimously re-elected to serve as Master for another year.

During the eight years that Brother Washington served as President of the United States, he was active in Freemasonry. At his first inauguration, he took the oath of office on a Bible from St. John's Lodge in New York, and during eight years, he visited numerous Lodges. Then on September 18, 1793, as Acting Grand Master, Brother Washington laid the cornerstone for the United States Capitol in Washington, D.C.

As Masons remember the birthday of Brother George Washington, they can be reminded that he is, indeed, the perfect ashlar by which they can, and should, gauge their labors and square their activities.

Passionate People. INSPIRING LIVES.

Here In Spirit

Grand Master Cloyd Bumgardner knows that spiritual growth and support is one of the benefits of living at Masonic Homes. Each community at the Homes offers spiritual and religious programs that provide residents a sense of wellbeing, enriching their lives and nourishing their souls with meaning and purpose. That is why he has chosen Here In Spirit as his Grand Master's Campaign.

With the help of Kentucky Masons, Brother Cloyd hopes to raise funds to enhance the worship environment for all residents, regardless of faith tradition. These improvements include protective coverings for chapel windows, large print Bibles, new communion ware, and a television, DVD and stand to present videos during funeral services.

"We really want you to support this program so you can still contribute and be a part of Masonic Homes of Kentucky, even if you can't be here on a daily basis," Cloyd said. "The money is much needed for the residents to continue receiving the spiritual support offered at the Homes."

Your gift to Here In Spirit may be made online at masonichomesky.com/giving, or you may mail a check payable to Masonic Homes of Kentucky to 3761 Johnson Hall Drive, Masonic Home, KY 40041.

Forget Them Not By Bruce Lott

After someone we love dies, it is intensely difficult to deal with the loss, especially around meaningful times like birthdays and holidays. As each anniversary date comes around, we typically find ways to remember those who have had special meaning to us. Here are some suggestions for honoring the lives of those we have loved or admired with a gift to the Homes.

- Make memorial giving an annual event. Make an entry on your calendar to send a gift each year on the anniversary of the loss of that special person. It's a way to remember what they meant to you.
- Ask others to give instead of sending flowers for a funeral. Memorial giving can help keep a loved one or friend's memory alive, fund a worthy cause like Masonic Homes, and be a source of comfort when families need it most.
- Include a bequest to the Homes in your will. Such gifts, in any amount, honor someone while helping ensure we are able to continue serving those in our care in the future.

Worth A Thousand Words

Masonic Home of Shelbyville participated in Shelby County's Annual Christmas Parade, winning first place in the Business & Industry Category and Grand Champion overall. The Shelbyville maintenance staff designed and built the float, and many staff members and families came the day of the parade to help.

Bro. Roy Wise (Harrison Lodge No. 122), a resident at The Pillars Assisted Living Community in Shelbyville, has been "adopted" by Golden Rule Covington Lodge No. 109 as part of the 2016 Lodge of Excellency program. Bro. Jason Hale, Master of No. 109, and Treasurer, Bro. Dwight Rider, visited Roy over the holiday.
