District Meeting Photos

It has been a great start with great attendance at each of the five District meetings held so far. The DDGM's who jump started this year were District 11 Charles Smith, District 15 Raymond Wolford, District 16 Leonard Richardson, District 21 John Folden and District 22 Marvin Upchurch! Attendance has been excellent at these meetings. District 11 did some astonishing fundraising for our Veterans and has put the challenge to the rest of the Districts! These meetings were a great time of fellowship and reconnecting with Brothers after being gone for so long because of the pandemic.

GRAND MASTER'S MESSAGE

ERNEST C. JACKSON
Grand Master 2020-2021

Greetings Brothers,
We should be in the middle of our District Meetings by now. I am overwhelmed with the attendance. I have to say, its pleasing to see the Brothers and their Ladies out in enjoying the District Meetings. I hope that either you have attended or plan to attend a District Meeting. Brothers take time to enjoy, greet a new Brother with open arms, show him our Brotherly love we have among us. I want to thank, each District Deputy and their Lodge for making our District Meetings outstanding. To the District Deputies, Thank You again, for all your hard work and dedication you give Our Great Fraternity.

Brothers, I want to thank each Lady! Our Ladies are why we get to meet and have our Fellowship and Brotherly Love. If our Ladies did not support us in our endeavors. The long hours, traveling, being gone, the weekend travels and all the extra work staying on the phone that keeps us busy at home. Thank you, Ladies, again!! I hope the other Ladies are having a good time at the District Meetings. I know my wife is.

The Traveling Level is moving at a great speed. It has been like the game "Hot Potato" the Lodges that have had the Traveling Level are doing a good job moving it around.

The Scholarship only had One Thousand dollars in the fund when it started. As I write this Article that amount has increased by an additional One thousand dollars, bringing the total Two Thousand Dollars in the Scholarship Fund. I have had Brothers ask me "if they could donate to the Scholarship Fund" and remain anonymous? I am going to honor the Brothers request.

Brothers, we cannot go wrong helping a student with their education. Its hard for any student to go on to college because it is so expensive. These Scholarship monies will help any student that wants to further their education get started. We as Masons need to be out doing things to make people know who we are and the good we do in our community as Brother Masons. Making our community a better place to live.

We are Not Above Nor Below,
but on the Level

Fraternally Thine,
Ernest C. Jackson

ANCIENT & ACCEPTED SCOTTISH RITE - ORIENT OF KENTUCKY

Dear Brethren,
Are we seeing the light at the end of the tunnel from COVID-19?

Maybe somewhat, but we cannot let our guards down yet. We need to continue to practice the safety guidelines that has been set forth.

The Supreme Council Workshops have begun, and I encourage any member and especially Officers and Consistory Leadership to virtually attend one of the remaining presentations. Space is limited, so call the Supreme Council Office to register.

If you haven't visited your Consistory in a while, I sincerely urge you to do so. Make plans now to attend your next meeting or Reunion. Your Consistory would appreciate your attendance. I encourage each Scottish Rite Mason to bring in at least one petition this year to help perpetuate our beloved Rite.

Lastly, my prayers are with you and your Families to remain safe and healthy and continue to practice those valuable lessons we have learned in our beautiful and meaningful Degrees. May God Bless!

Sincerely and fraternally,

Terry

Valley of Louisville

Greetings My Brothers All,

Please allow me to introduce myself. My name is Geary F. Laird from Shawnee Lodge #830 where I serve as Treasurer. This past year I was afforded the honor and privilege to serve as your Grand Master. Your thoughts, prayers and support helped get Freemasonry through some exceedingly difficult times.

As a Mason, it has always been my desire to serve all Masons, whether they be Blue Lodge, Scottish Rite, York Rite or Shrine.

I am truly honored and humbled to be appointed to serve as your Personal Representative here at the Valley of Louisville. As a newly appointed Personal Representative, I am sure you have many questions and concerns. If I can be of assistance, please contact me by email: gearylaird10@gmail.com or phone (502) 417-6005.

Knowledge is the key to our success. Every mason should strive to make advancements in Masonic education and take advantage of the programs that we have in place. One example is the Scottish Rite Master Craftsman (SRMC) program which is a correspondence course designed and administered by the staff at the House of the Temple in Washington, DC. There are three courses available: 1. Master Craftsman: Symbolic Lodge, 2. Master Craftsman: Scottish Rite History & Ritual, 3. Master Craftsman: Scottish Rite Philosophy. All students who complete the course will receive a certificate of completion and a lapel pin. Students who are members of the Southern Jurisdiction will be presented these at a Valley meeting.

It is my hope that we can continue to build on these programs and have other events to enhance our membership's Masonic experiences. To me, the most crucial part of Freemasonry is to be able to teach the lessons of Masonry and exemplify them in our everyday lives.

We have started again holding meetings at the Valley of Louisville. I hope you will come out and participate in some of the activities we have planned. The time is now, let us get involved, press ahead with good ritual, fellowship, and brotherly love.

United together, there is nothing that we cannot accomplish. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Fraternally thine,
Geary F. Laird, PGM, 32° KCCH
Personal Representative, Valley of Louisville

MASONIC LIBRARY AND MUSEUM ASSOCIATION COVINGTON SCOTTISH RITE

“I Didn’t Know That.....”

JOHN BRECKINRIDGE CASTLEMAN & DANIEL R. COLLIER:

HOW FREEMASONRY HELPED AVERT A SECOND CIVIL WAR IN KENTUCKY

The immediate aftermath of the death of Governor William Goebel in Frankfort, Kentucky on February 3, 1900 brought Kentucky to the brink of civil war. But for the intervention of two prominent Kentuckians, John Breckinridge Castleman and Daniel R. Collier, both Freemasons, it is likely that armed conflict would have occurred. How these two men, who came from very different backgrounds, helped defuse such a volatile situation, is a story largely lost to history.

To understand how matters in early 1900 reached a boiling point, it is necessary to understand post-Civil War politics in Kentucky. Following the Civil War, Kentucky was politically dominated by the conservative wing of the Democratic Party. As the 19th century neared an end, the Democrat’s grip on political power weakened and, in 1895, Kentucky elected its first Republican governor, William O. Bradley. The election of the Republican Bradley threw the Democratic Party into disarray. Into that leadership vacuum stepped Covington state Senator William Goebel.

A successful trial lawyer, Goebel was first elected to the Kentucky Senate in 1887. In 1898 Goebel secured passage of a bill known as the Goebel Election Law. The gist of the Election Law was this: The General Assembly, dominated by Democrats, would create an Election Commission. The members of the Commission would be two Democrats and one Republican. The Commissioners would then select an election commissioner for each Kentucky county, who would certify the results of his county’s elections in order for such results to be official. The state Election Commission would have the final determination in any challenge to election results certified at the county level.

The stage was now set for the 1899 gubernatorial election in Kentucky. Republican nominated William S. Taylor, who had been elected Attorney General in 1895. After a bitter and fractious state convention in Louisville, the Democrats nominated Goebel as their candidate for Governor. Former Governor John Y. Brown (1891-1895) ran as a third-party candidate.

When the votes were tallied on November 7, 1899, it appeared that Taylor had been elected Governor by about 2,400 votes. Goebel appealed the results to the Election Commission created under the Goebel Election Law. To the surprise of everyone, the Election Commission upheld the results of election and on December 12, 1899, William S. Taylor was inaugurated as Kentucky’s 33rd governor. The Election Commission’s report, however, said that the General Assembly had the final power to determine the validity of elections in Kentucky. Goebel quickly appealed to the Democrat dominated General Assembly, which appointed a commission consisting of ten Democrats and one Republican to examine the election results. Republicans, fearing the election was about to be stolen from them, descended on Frankfort in an effort to intimidate the legislature. Scores of armed men arrived by the trainload daily and tensions in the capital ran very high. In many ways Frankfort was a city under siege.

Upon his election as governor in 1895, William O. Bradley appointed Daniel Ray Collier as Adjutant General of the Kentucky State Guard. Born in Garrard County, Kentucky on November 21, 1840, Collier was a Civil War veteran, having risen to the rank of Major in the Union Army. He was severely wounded at the Battle of Stones River (or Murfreesboro) and never saw field action again. After the war, he was a farmer, a postmaster, and later a federal pension agent. Newly inaugurated Governor Taylor asked Collier to stay on as Adjutant General, and December of 1899 found Governor Taylor warily eying the armed men in Frankfort and weighing the necessity of using the State Guard to maintain order.

The election commission appointed by the General Assembly waited until after the beginning of the new year to meet and prepare its recommendation to the General Assembly. On January 30, 1900, the legislature was scheduled to meet and act on the commission’s report. It was expected that the Democratic commission would report in Goebel’s favor, and that the majority Democratic legislature would vote to overturn the election and declare Goebel governor. On Tuesday morning, January 30, 1900, William Goebel was shot as he approached the old capitol building in Frankfort. In the ensuing pandemonium, Gov. Taylor called out General Collier and the State Guard to keep the peace.

On January 31, 1900, meeting in the Capitol Hotel in Frankfort, the Democrats in the General Assembly (who were a majority of the legislature) overturned the election results and proclaimed William Goebel the 34th governor of Kentucky. Goebel, although mortally wounded, was sworn in as governor. Goebel lingered for a few days before dying on February 3, 1900. The Democratic Lieutenant Governor, J. C. W. Beckham, was immediately sworn in as Kentucky’s 35th governor. Governor Beckham then appointed John Breckinridge Castleman as Adjutant General of the Kentucky State Guard.

Governor Taylor disputed the legitimacy of Governor Goebel’s, and consequently, Governor Beckham’s, claims to the office and refused to recognize any of their acts. Taylor remained in the governor’s mansion and continued to act as governor. For a period of time, Kentucky had two governments – one headed by Governor Taylor with Daniel R. Collier acting as Adjutant General and the other headed by Governor Beckham with John B. Castleman as Adjutant General. Frankfort was a powder keg. With two rival State Guard factions, the slightest misstep on either side would result in armed conflict plunging the State into partisan civil war.

The Democratic Adjutant General, John Breckinridge Castleman, had been born in Fayette County, Kentucky, on June 30, 1842. Young Castleman served in the Confederate army, and was one of Gen. John Hunt Morgan’s raiders. Near the end of the war, he was sent to St. Louis with the assignment of burning federal boats docked there. He was captured and sentenced to be hung, but was pardoned by President Lincoln just before the war’s end.

After the War, Castleman studied both medicine and law, began an insurance agency, founded the American Saddlebred Horse Association, was instrumental in the design of the Louisville park system and raised the Louisville Legion for service in the Spanish American War. Castleman had previously served as Adjutant General from 1883-1887 under Governor J. Proctor Knott.

ANCIENT & ACCEPTED SCOTTISH RITE - ORIENT OF KENTUCKY

Castleman and Collier were well known to each other. Castleman was a member of Falls City Lodge No. 376 in Louisville and Collier was a member of Bryantsville Lodge No. 197 in Garrard County. Meeting privately, Castleman and Collier discussed the delicate position in which they found themselves and the possibility for armed conflict between the two parties. Both men realized that to a large extent, the fate and reputation of the Commonwealth rested in their hands.

Here is Castleman’s description of the meeting: “General Collier and I were Masons, and it was upon the obligations imposed by Masonic pledge of brotherhood and fraternity that reliance was lodged to strengthen and make impregnable a fortress constructed on Masonic honor to protect our people. We knew that the unusual condition would, on both sides, develop impetuosity. This we agreed should not affect either of us and that, dealing with each other on fraternal grounds, we should always find accord in Masonic truth ‘leading to the goal of brotherhood and fraternity.’ To this end, with pledge to each other to this Masonic fulfillment, we agreed to do nothing without co-operative action in order that our Masonic honor might redound to the good of a troubled and infuriated people.”

Castleman proposed that the two men vow to each other, upon their Masonic honor, not to use force against each other, or to direct others to use force, until the appropriate Courts could decide which party had the legitimate claim to power. Collier enthusiastically agreed to this proposal. On May 22, 1900, in compliance with an Order of the U. S. Supreme Court, Gen. Collier yielded the office of Adjutant General to Gen. John B. Castleman. Gov. Beckham’s claim to office was upheld and Gov. Taylor fled to Indiana, where he spent the rest of his life.

Gen. Collier died at Lancaster, Kentucky on January 22, 1904 and is buried in Lancaster Cemetery. Gen. Castleman survived until May 23, 1918, when he died in Louisville, Kentucky and is buried in Cave Hill Cemetery.

Kentuckians owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to these two men. Daniel Collier was a committed Republican and John Breckinridge Castleman was an equally committed Democrat. Both men viewed the role of government in very different ways. Yet in the hour of crisis, it was these two men, former opponents on the field of battle and political opposites, who, upon their honor as Masons, pledged to put the good of their State above their allegiance to their political party.

The names of Daniel Collier and John Castleman are now remembered by only a few. But their example should be a daily reminder to all of us that application of the Masonic values of truth, relief and brotherly love are ultimately greater than either the ballot box or the bullet; and have the ability to heal a broken country’s deepest wounds.

Greetings Brethren from the Valley of Covington.

With all the shutdowns and isolation of 2020, it has certainly been refreshing to see a renewal of activity not only in Freemasonry, but also its appendant bodies. Much like the beautiful spring weather we are now enjoying, it seems like our noble fraternity is entering a Spring of its own after the "long winter" that was 2020.

The Valley of Covington hosted its first stated business meeting via Zoom in February. It was actually a pretty good turnout with around 30 members attending. Most especially, was that we had several members attending, from geographically significant distances, who had not been to the Valley of Covington temple in many years. In order to stay attuned to ongoing meeting Zoom codes, and other timely events; make sure you are receiving our latest communications via email; by sending a confirmation of your address to our Secretary/Registrar: F. Keith Dreier, PGM, 33° at: keith@covingtonscottishrite.org; and also to our Membership Chairman: Ronald L. Allari, 32° KCCH at: ron.allari@gmail.com.

Some of our Scottish Rite clubs stayed and have continued to remain very active. There are eleven regional Scottish Rite clubs in the Valley of Covington (dispersed through northern, north-central, and eastern Kentucky). Generally, our club meetings are not tyled; if you are a Master Mason interested in a little more camaraderie and/or would like to check out the Scottish Rite in an informal and casual setting - take a look at the clubs on our web page: <https://covingtonscottishrite.org> for places and times meeting near you (might want to confirm by calling in advance). You will find yourself heartily welcomed by brethren, who like you enjoy each other's company, and will perhaps find opportunities to make a difference for the betterment of our own lives, as well as the lives of others.

Our March Reunion in Ashland was an absolute success. We enjoyed wonderful accommodations at the newly renovated Delta Hotel by Marriott. Many thanks to the beautiful Poage Lodge #325 for its freshly renovated venue and to the Ashland-Russell Scottish Rite Club for coordinating our meals and excellent hospitality. Honorable mention to the Sandy Valley Scottish Rite Club for additional funding of our most excellent hospitality room Friday evening. All of the degree teams performed flawlessly, we should all take pride in the standard of excellence promoted by all members of our craft. Needless to say the ongoing laughter and goodwill felt by all the attendees (especially after the drought of 2020) have us looking forward with great anticipation to our May (21 & 22) Reunion in Covington!

Mark your calendars and keep in mind the Valley of Covington's First Annual Fundraising Gala to be held at the Delta Marriott in Ashland on October 2, 2021. We are honored to have as our Keynote Speaker: Illustrious James D. Cole, 33rd°, Sovereign Grand Commander of the Supreme Council, 33°, of the Southern Jurisdiction, USA. It should be noted, that Jim Cole is renowned as an excellent speaker (publicly speaking since the age of fifteen); you won't want to miss this black tie event which will also include live music, a plated dinner, and a silent auction. This gala was originated in the vision of our Junior Past Personal Representative, Illustrious Raymond A. Murphy, 33rd° and is largely being brought to fruition through the efforts of Michael J. Barnett, 32nd° KCCH. Also, and perhaps most importantly, this event is open to all Master Masons, whether from Kentucky or anywhere else from the four corners of the earth. Tickets will be available from the Valley of Covington, beginning at the time of our May Reunion.

In the meantime, I wish you all the best in health and safety during these unique and somewhat turbulent times and look forward to seeing you soon.

Fraternally Thine,

Rob

Valley of Madisonville

Brethren,

The Valley of Madisonville will have a Spring Reunion on June 19th, 2021. This will be a one-day Conferral. Originally the date of June 12th had been chosen. However, MWGM Ernest Jackson will be having an ATV ride that day, and I will not schedule an event at the same time our Grand Master has planned something. I am pleased to announce that all of our degree teams have been filled by our own members. The reunion will begin at 7am with breakfast starting at 6am.

The district meetings will be concluding soon. This is always a time of great fellowship. I will be focusing the Scottish Rite presentation in those districts that make up Western Kentucky. Due to time constraint, I will not be able to give a complete presentation, (it takes about 20 minutes) however for those interested I will visit lodges when invited by the master of the lodge.

Fraternally Submitted,
Douglas W. Bunch,
Personal Representative, Valley of Madisonville

"Our Brother"

God knew he was getting tired.
As he laid his working tools down,
For a cure was not to be.
So He put His arms around him,
And whispered, "Come unto Me."
With tearful eyes we watched him suffer,
As he worked from day to day.
Although we loved him dearly,
We could not make him stay.
A Golden Heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands to rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the Best.
